

SHKP partners with PolyU to drive industry-academia-research collaboration

新地攜手理大推動產學研合作

Under Secretary for Education Sze Chun-fai (front, fifth from right), SHKP Executive Director Adam Kwok (front, sixth from right), SHKP-Kwoks' Foundation Executive Director Amy Kwok (front, fourth from right), PolyU Vice President (Student and Global Affairs) Ben Young (front, sixth from left), and other guests attend the scholarship ceremony. 教育局副局長施俊輝(前排右五)、新地執行董事郭基輝(前排右六)、新地郭氏基金執行董事郭婉儀(前排右四)、理大副校長(學生及環球事務)楊立偉(前排左六)等嘉賓見證獎學金頒贈。

To nurture talent and drive innovation in the construction industry, SHKP-Kwoks' Foundation x PolyU Building Homes with Heart Scholarship Programme awarded the fourth batch of scholarships to 11 Hong Kong Polytechnic University (PolyU) students in several disciplines, including real estate, surveying and civil engineering.

SHKP Executive Director Adam Kwok said, "Over the past four years, the programme has awarded 42 scholarships, amounting to approximately HK$1.5 million. We have also seen beneficiaries join the SHKP family upon their graduation. In addition, SHKP has donated HK$12.5 million to PolyU for construction innovation research, fully supporting industry-academia-research collaboration."

One of the notable outcomes of this collaboration is a building management system jointly developed by SHKP and PolyU for the flagship commercial development in West Kowloon, IGC. The system digitalizes energy management and facilitates high energy consumption efficiency. This initiative received a Research Matching Grant from the University Grants Committee, supporting Hong Kong's progression towards carbon neutrality and further development as a smart city.

為建築業培育人才，並推動行業發展，「新鴻基地產郭氏基金X香港理工大學以心建家獎學金計劃」早前頒發第四屆獎學金，11位來自地產、測量、土木工程等學系的理大學生獲頒獎學金。

新地執行董事郭基輝表示：「過去四年，該計劃合共頒發42個獎學金名額，總金額約150萬港元，有受惠畢業生已加入新地大家庭。此外，新地已捐贈1,250萬港元支持理大的建築創新研發項目，積極支持產學研合作。」

其中一項合作成果包括，新地與理大攜手為西九龍旗艦商業項目環球匯，研發數碼化及高效節能的系統與控制方案。該方案已獲得大學教育資助委員會的研究配對補助金，支持香港邁向碳中和以及建設智慧城市。